Clash Slated Over Probe Of Finances

GOP Policy Group Pledged To Oppose Democratic Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Republican Policy Committee has pledged firm GOP opposition to what it describes as a "political witch hunt"—a proposed Democratic-led probe of the nation's financial system.

The Republican stand thus signals a clash next week when Democrats call up for action a resolution which would call for such an inquiry. GOP leaders favor an investigation by a commission along lines proposed by President Eisenhower.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex), who would head the probe proposed by the Democrats, is an outspoken foe of administration fiscal practices.

Release Resolution

The Policy Committee took its stand in a resolution made public yesterday by GOP House Leader Martin (Mass). The Republicans said the study suggested by some Democrats might "upset the confidence of our people in the soundness of our financial structure and our free economy."

Eisenhower has suggested creation of an impartial independent commission to study "the nature, performance and adequacy of our financial system."

Delay Needed Measures

Patman says, however, such a study would only delay enactment of legislation he feels is needed. The Texan has criticized particularly the "tight money" policy of the administration.

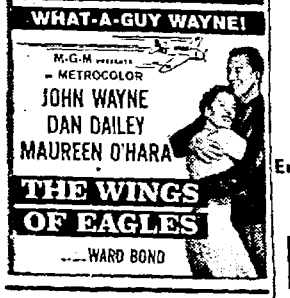

He has said his proposed study would be fair, and would not be aimed at "scandalizing anyone, or trying to turn up corruption."

Auto Hits Tree, Four Teen-Age Passengers Die

BALTIMORE (AP) — A car sped along a straight stretch of suburban highway late last night and into twisted oblivion against a tree. Its four teenage passengers were killed.

The dead were James Jackson, 17, and Robert Craig, 18, both of Owings Mills, and Martin Wesley, 16, and Chester Lee Joy, 15, both of Reisterstown. Jackson was thought to be the driver.

"Their bodies were so jumbled up inside the car that it was impossible to tell where they had been sitting," said Baltimore County Patrolman James McIntyre.

"It took us 15 minutes to get them out," said his companion, Patrolman Merrill Tarbert. "We had to pry them out from behind pieces of wreckage."

The policemen said speed caused the accident.

They said the car was speeding south toward Baltimore along a straight, level stretch of two-lane highway 25 minutes before midnight. It sideswiped — actually, barely brushed — a northbound car, they said.

Pontiff Extends 'Liberal' Mass, Communion Rules

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Effective next Monday, rules for evening Mass and the communion fast have been liberalized by Pope Pius XII to meet changing conditions of modern life. The new rulings extend liberalizations that he made in 1953.

The Pope now gives Roman Catholic bishops the right to celebrate evening Mass daily "so long as it is required for the spiritual welfare of a considerable number of people."

The 1953 liberalization permitted evening Mass on a limited basis, and on a sort of trial period. The practice proved successful, especially in Italy, where working people could more easily attend Mass in the evening than in the morning.

The new rules require priests and Roman Catholics to abstain only three hours from solid food and alcoholic drinks before attending Mass and receiving Holy Communion.

In the past, the fast was ordinarily observed from midnight of the day on which communion was to be received. Some modifications made in that rule in 1953 are now extended and made general.

According to the new regulations, nonalcoholic drinks may be taken up to an hour before receiving communion and water may be taken at any time.

Those who are sick, even though they may not be confined to bed, may take nonalcoholic beverages as well as medicines and solid foods at any time before receiving communion.

The three-hour fast from solid foods and alcoholic drinks required for those who are well must also be observed in the case of midnight Mass—most frequently celebrated at Christmas and sometimes at Easter.

Sen. Weinroth (D-Cecil) Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Funeral services for State Sen. James Weinroth of Maryland will be held here at 2 p. m. Monday from the Joseph Levy and Sons Memorial Chapel.

The 49-year-old Elkton, Md., attorney, who represented Cecil County, died yesterday at Mt. Sinai Hospital. He had been operated on Wednesday night for removal of a brain tumor.

Weinroth, a Democrat, was brought here last week from Annapolis where he had been hospitalized with rib injuries suffered in an automobile accident. He had been in ill health much of the current 90-day legislative session.

Weinroth was the second Maryland legislator to die within two days. Del. J. Ellis Dido Tawes, who had been suffering from a heart condition and circulatory ailment, died Wednesday at his Crisfield home.

by offering an amendment to the bill and then forcing it to rest for a day.

They reportedly had a string of amendments ready to repeat the process as often as possible.

The mayor has asked the Legislature to let city residents vote on a 25-million dollar loan to buy the transit company.

Those who disagree with the idea were involved in two other rule-book battles which had been tying up the House.

The city delegation finally won one of its battles by threatening to use continued amendments and layovers. The city delegates were opposed to a bill which would have given the Board of Optometry sweeping powers to regulate the eye-glass trade.

Aimed At Sales

The city delegates contended the move was aimed at curtailing volume sale of eye glasses in Baltimore stores.

Hanna, a sponsor of the bill, moved to kill it. He said he was convinced it couldn't ever be passed in the few days left in the session and therefore should be forgotten. His motion was carried, 73-29.

Three Navy Airmen Set Speed Mark

Attack Bomber Zooms Across Continent In 3 Hours, 39 Minutes

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — Just "to add a little spice to a routine ferrying job," three Navy airmen set an unofficial cross country record time of 3 hours 39 minutes and 24 seconds on a flight from California to Florida yesterday.

Lt. (J.G.) Ralph S. Barnett, the pilot, said he made no effort to push the twin-jet A3D Navy attack bomber to its maximum and didn't know he bettered the record until he sat down to dinner at Sanford Naval Air Station.

While the record bettered by eight minutes the time made in January by an Air Force B47 it will not be official because timing arrangements were not made in advance with the International Federation which certifies such records.

Average 640 M.P.H.

Barnett and his crewmen, Airmen Machinists L. F. Trope and W. J. Prout, took off from International Airport at Burbank, Calif. at 12:16:30 p.m. (EST) and winged over Miami Marine Corps Air Station at 3:55:54. They averaged above 640 m.p.h.

"We figured it would take about 10 minutes longer than it did," Barnett said. He signified in the flight plan he planned to try for the record "to add a little spice to a routine ferrying job."

Tailwind Helps

He said a helpful tailwind about 36,000 feet up pushed them to the record but otherwise it was an uneventful flight.

They were delivering the new plane from the Douglas factory in California to Sanford NAS in central Florida.

The plane they flew is similar to one which set a round trip coast-to-coast record of 9 hours 40 minutes and 3 seconds only a day earlier.

2 is 10 times as great as 1 and 3 is 100 times as great as 1. Hence, yesterday's quake was one one-hundredth of the 1906 convulsion.

But it was violent enough to alarm the entire region and destructive enough to cause cumulative damage probably ranging into millions. In addition to minor damage to countless homes and visual road damage, several reservoirs were cracked.

FOR SALE BY THE STATE ROADS COMMISSION

Sealed bids will be received until noon, Tuesday April 9, 1957, at the office of the State Roads Commission at Baltimore, Maryland; offering to purchase the improvements located on the former Orville S. Plummer Property consisting of a 1½ story frame house, 4 rooms and bath first floor, second floor unfinished, kitchen and bath fixtures, furnace and water pump. Also 2 car concrete block garage on the proposed highway improvement between Narrows Park and Corriganville, State Route 36, just eastward of Corriganville.

All of these improvements must be removed down to the ground line, by midnight, Tuesday, May 14, 1957.

Details, bidding forms and special bidding envelopes may be obtained at the State Roads Commission Office, Braddock Road, Cumberland, Maryland. Inspection Monday through Friday by contacting Mr. John S. Knepp Chief Inspector in charge of project, State Roads Commission's field office Lower Homewood Addition, Phone PA 2-3111.

James Lee Shaw vs. Esther Eunice Shaw, No. 24808 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of divorce a VINCULO MATRIMONII for the Plaintiff, James Lee Shaw, and against the Defendant, Esther Eunice Shaw.

The bill states that on October 14, 1944, James Lee Shaw was married to Esther Eunice Almond and that one child, Ann Lee Shaw, was born on the 24th day of November, 1944; that the parties lived together until December 13, 1953 when Esther Eunice Shaw abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff, James Lee Shaw, without just cause or reason; that such abandonment has been continuous and uninterrupted for more than eighteen months and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that the Plaintiff prays the custody of the infant daughter born of said marriage, and that the Plaintiff has been a resident of Allegany County for more than one year.

It is thereupon this 15th day of March, 1957, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks before the 16th day of April, 1957, giving notice to the said Esther Eunice Shaw of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint, and warning her to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 2nd day of May, 1957, to show cause, if any she may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Charles Boyer's Son Taking French Lessons In Los Angeles

BOYER AND KATHARINE CORNELL: "The play had merit."

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Charles Boyer's son is studying French. And at the Berlitz School, in Los Angeles. This may come as a crashing shock to millions of people, but the truth will out.

The Boyer family is leaving for a summer in France and Italy very soon, and Michael Boyer, 13, has reached the age where he understands the value of conversing in foreign tongues while in foreign lands.

"When he was born," his father says, "my mother lived with us. Michael grew up speaking French to her and English to his parents. But my mother went back to France after the war and he would not speak French to us. He associated his grandmother with French. He forgot all he knew.

"He won't practice what he's learning now with me. He's too shy. He does speak some to his mother — she's not French — but not with me."

Boyer just did his first live TV dramatic role — in the Hallmark Hall of Fame's "There Shall Be No Night"—after many filmed roles. He took the part, he says, because there was the chance of working with Katharine Cornell and because "the play has merit — not just one of those little things."

After his picture-making summer abroad, he'll come back and start working on a new TV series, to replace the Four Star Playhouse he shared with David Niven, Ida Lupino and Dick Powell.

The new series, as yet untitled, will cut four stars to three. Boyer and Niven will be back, along with Jane Powell. The three will be cast as "trouble-shooters" for a travel agency, going all over the world to straighten out the problems of their touring clients. They'll alternate as stars from week to week, and occasionally all three will appear together.

The change of format, Boyer says, is simply explained. "I think the public is getting sick and tired of the anthology idea," he says. Oui.

Teddy Nadler, the memory that walks like a man, was taken around New York by a representative of "The $64,000 Challenge." They went to the Museum of the City of New York and a museum guide steered them through the exhibits. They stopped in front of a model of the Civil War ship, Merrimac, and the guide began his speech about the vessel's dimensions.

"Don't bother with all that," Nadler said. "I can tell you the name of every man who served on the crew."

Xavier Cugat called a friend and said he'd bought a cannery.

"Great," said the friend. "In California?"

"No, New York," said Cugie.

"New York? What kind of a cannery do they have in New York?"

"Yellow one—sings beautiful—got a lovely cage, too."

Almost anybody in the music business will tell you the same thing — the greatest unsung singer now singing is Stuart Foster. Almost anybody, that is, except Stuart Foster.

Stuart Foster

"People always tell me to push," Stu says. "To try new things, to go out after commercial hits and bigger shows. But I'm happy doing what I'm doing. I don't want all the money in the world, and I don't want to be the biggest star."

What he's doing is his own show on CBS-Radio, and vocalizing on the Galen Drake show on ABC-TV.

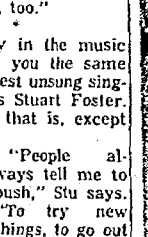

"I only work three days a week," the good-looking, soft-spoken Foster says. "I make a good living. I live at home with my wife and son and I don't have to go on the road. I'm happy the way things are."

Foster says he can make records "whenever I want to" and maybe he will. Coral presently is badgering him to do an album called "Stuart Foster Sings Stephen Foster," figuring that's a cute title. Foster (Stuart, that is) isn't exactly sold, but he's thinking about it.

Foster's opinion of present-day music isn't too high. "My wife and I listen to the radio," he says, "and I feel that music has sunk to a pretty low level. So many of the hit record performers simply can't sing — they are off-key most of the time. The sad part is that they think they're singing well.

"I've tried to sing badly, for effect. I can't. You can't sing badly unless you really feel you're singing good."

One of the most talented children around isn't on any quiz show. She's Polly Bergen's 10-year-old daughter, Kathy. She's the Eloise type — black hair, big brown eyes, the very self-assured hostess around Polly's home.

Polly Bergen

Among her talents—she taught herself to touch-type; she knits and crochets expertly; she's pretty good at badminton; she sews—makes all her dolls' clothes; she's getting to be a figure-skating whiz.

"STAGEBRUSH" PRINCIPALS—Two of the leading roles in the revue, "Stagebrush," to be repeated today at 8:15 at the Beall High School auditorium by employes of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory are being filled by Paul Morgan and Helen Little. They are shown in costume at the final dress rehearsal. The revue was well received by a large crowd.

GRACE-FUL STAMP—A charming profile of Princess Grace of Monaco adorns this new 15-franc Monaco postage stamp. The stamp bears the birth date (Jan. 23, 1957) of Princess Caroline.

An annual revenue of $76,000,000 is derived from parking meters in the United States.

A real friend is one who, when you've made a fool of yourself, doesn't consider it a permanent job.

Heart Suit Traps South

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand is one of the most interesting of the Intercollegiate championships.

The normal bidding is for South to open with one no-trump

	NORTH (D) 23
	♠ Q 10
	♥ J 10 8
	♦ A 9 8 6 2
	♣ K 5 3
WEST		EAST
♠ A 9 7 5 2		♠ 8 6 4
♥ 7 5 4		♥ A 9 6 3 2
♦ 7 5		♦ Q J 4
♣ Q 10 8		♣ J 4
	SOUTH
	♥ K Q
	♦ K 10 3
	♣ A 9 7 6 2

East and West vulnerable

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 5

in third seat, whereupon North should jump to three no-trump.

West will open his fourth best spade and North's ten will hold the trick. South will count up to eight tricks in several ways but will note that he is one short of game. His best play is to try to sneak a heart trick so he will play a heart from dummy; preferably the jack.

East must go right up with the ace and play a second spade. West must duck this trick.

Now East and West will have made their par, which is to beat the three no-trump contract one trick.

If South goes after the diamond suit at trick two, East will get the lead and West will again duck the second grade. South will run the rest of the diamonds and West must discard his hearts in order to retain the club stopper and all the spades.

If South goes after the clubs, West will probably get the lead. In this case he must lead a second low spade so that when East gets in he will still be able to lead the suit to West.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♥	2 N.T.	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ K 7 ♥ J 10 9 4 ♦ K 3 ♣ A J 9 6 5

What do you do?

A—Bid five clubs. If your partner doesn't like no-trump you have tremendous support for clubs and want to be at least in game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You hold the same hand. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♥	2 N.T.	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	?

What do you, South, do?

Answer Monday

Alger Tradition Being Followed

HOLLYWOOD—John Caler is a man of whom Horatio Alger would be proud. Caler is working his way through college — Glendale College, in California—and he hasn't sold a single magazine.

Caler has, however, sold a book to Aero Publishers. It's called "Home-Built and Experimental Light Planes." He wrote it himself.

And, this week, Calder sold his services to Warner Bros. as an actor in "No Time For Sergeants." He'll play an Air Force buddy of Andy Griffith.

Disney Gather Animal Actors

HOLLYWOOD — Come another flood, a few phone calls to Hollywood would fill the ark pronto. Almost every creature imaginable, including pink elephants and talking mules, is available there — mostly for film makers requiring animal actors.

Right now the one who is putting the biggest dent in this aggregation of trained domestic and wild life is Walt Disney. For "Old Yeller," his story of a boy and a dog in frontier Texas, Disney's cast sheet includes two bears, three deer, two frogs, a horned toad, quail, raccoons, a wolf, two cows, horses, a squirrel, hogs, buzzards and a mule, non-talking.

Jackie Cooper Given Recording Contract

By JACK O'BRIAN
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK—Gene Austin, whose Roaring Twenties' minstrelsy will be acclaimed in a Goodyear Playhouse biofilm April 20, really sold records in his heyheydey: his "My Blue Heaven" hotcake sold 7,000,000 copies . . .

Bing Crosby is the all-time valid gold-record champ—fourteen . . .

Jackie Cooper never had serious singing intentions but his recent songs on the Perry Como show got him a recording contract not only to play drums, which he does well, but also to sing . . .

Leo Durocher has been called on for some unusual skills in his tempestuous baseball career, but NBC threw him a curve this time—he was summoned to show Nanette Fabray how to pitch a baseball for April 23's Kaiser Hour, in which Nan'll play gal ball player . . . Musical comedy . . .

From Milan any moment will go Mario Baldemarin, who has won some $500 and a trip to meet his idol, John Wayne . . .

Mario won his trip on a Milan TV quiz, "Lascia O Raddoppia," which we're assured means "Leave It Or Double It" . . .

His category: American western movie stars . . .

He identified "Tony" as the name of Tom Mix' horse; Wm. F. Cody as Buffalo Bill's square handle and when the querying got rough, even identified the poker hand Wild Bill Hickock held when he was shot: "Aces and Eights."

Mario won his trip to meet Wayne not all the way to Hollywood, but to Rome, where John was filming "Legend of the Lost" with Sophia Loren and Rosanno Brazzi . . .

Darn thrifty, those Milanese.

One of the networks is due for a scare: the unions learned lots of its background music is being arranged here but recorded in Italy . . . shortly will come the crackdown . . .

Gordon Yoder, INS-Telenews cameraman, was named "news-reel cameraman of the year" in the 14th annual selections by the Encyclopedia Britannica and the Nat'l Press Photogs Assn. . . .

Yoder's "Mansfield, Texas, segregation violence" won first prize in news reeling . . . He also placed 1st and 2nd in sports . . . Good all-purpose genius.

Steve Allen tried to get a team of "Dean & Dean" for his Sun. night show, hoping to add singer Dean Martin to singer Dean Jones; the deal fell through because Dean Martin has a firm future commitment with Dinah Shore for a show, to be billed as his "first solo TV appearance."

First Film Together

HOLLYWOOD — Debra Paget and her brother, known professionally as Ruell Shayne, work together on the screen for the first time in "Omar Khayyam."

Young Actress Joins Comedy Cast

LONDON—After a long search for a new screen personality to play the romantic lead in the comedy, "Uncle George", producers Irving Allen and A. R. Broccoli have announced the casting of 21-year-old Patricia (Paddy) Webster, a comparatively unknown redhead.

Paddy joins a cast headed by Nigel Patrick (who also directs), Charles Coburn, Wendy Hiller, Katie ("The Ladykillers") Johnson and Athene Seyler. She had started her career in earnest.

Television Taken Over By Westerns

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Cowboys, spurs, drawls and six shooters have taken over television. And you can smoke that in your corncob pipe.

Hardly an hour goes by that herds of cattle aren't thundering across the plains, bad-men being shot down like dirty dogs and heroes delivering the knockout punch to the scoundrel who tried to make off with the mortgage.

TV networks, aware that grown-ups are showing increased interest in what is generally referred to as the "adult Western," plan to give 'em more of what they want.

Latest cowboy opera to hit the home screen is NBC's "Tales of Wells Fargo," starring Dale Robertson, an Oklahoma-born Westerner who has always insisted on "just being himself."

"I never took a dramatic lesson," Robertson admitted. "Because Will Rogers once told me, 'They want you natural in Hollywood. The drama coaches will try to put your voice in a dinner jacket and people like their grits and hominy in every day clothes'."

The handsome six-footer, who has a drawl like a Kentucky colonel, won 28 letters while attending Oklahoma Military College. He played halfback on the football team, guard on the basketball squad, pitcher on the baseball team and won trophies for boxing, tennis, golf, swimming and polio.

If that didn't equip him to become a tip-top rope-slinging, gravel-pounding cow-poke, then nothing will.

Robertson also fell easily into his cowboy roles because his hobby is—being a cowboy.

He grew up on a ranch at Harrow, Okla., and currently owns a 160-acre ranch at Yukon, Okla., plus a smaller layout near Los Angeles where he breaks in race horses.

"I figger a man ought to do what he knows best," Dale admitted. "That's why I don't mind doing Westerns. I never made my living as a cowpoke, but I've been riding horses ever since I can remember. And I can shoot a colt revolver with the best of 'em, rope a cow—and even ride a steer if necessary."

Dale's biggest beef is the weird ideas some people have about Westerners.

"They think it's strange if you like good music and know how to play chess," he declared. "But Will Rogers was the most Western guy I ever met and he knew more about politics than a lot of politicians."

French Actor In 'Band Of Angels'

HOLLYWOOD — Maurice Marsac, former Paris stage and screen actor, has been cast as a New Orleans French dandy in "Band of Angels," starring Clark Gable and Yvonne DeCarlo.

Marsac recently completed the role of a French flying officer in "Lafayette Escadrille."

Search Extensive For Morningstar

HOLLYWOOD — Sandy Smith, blonde model from New York City, is the latest hopeful to test for the title role in "Marjorie Morningstar." An extensive search for an unknown actress to essay the title role in the Herman Wouk story was launched several months ago.

If a 200-pound man were transported from the earth to the moon, he would weigh only about 34 pounds.

Rodgers And Hammerstein Impressed With TV Setup

NEW YORK (INS) — Rodgers and Hammerstein, who introduced the South Pacific, Oklahoma and Siam to musical comedy audiences have discovered a new country — television land.

Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II have authored an hour-and-a-half musical version of "Cinderella," set for CBS-TV March 31 with Julie Andrews of "My Fair Lady" fame playing the title role.

R & H team up as well in an interview as they do writing such hit musicals as "South Pacific," "Oklahoma!" and "The King and I." Both sat on the set of "Cinderella" in their shirtsleeves, batting answers about their first TV venture back and forth like a couple of expert tennis players.

Hammerstein: "We worked on this about seven months."

Rodgers: "We started early in August. Considering the difference in length, it's about the same time as for a show."

Hammerstein: "A show takes us a year, so it's the same ratio."

Rodgers: "I think the big differences are starting now with rehearsals, cameras, mechanical and physical techniques. Here's where we find the difference."

Hammerstein: "We went ahead on the idea that the television people could give us anything we asked for. They can, so it's just as well we didn't know about the difficulties. We wouldn't know how to move a camera around, but they do. I thought movie technicians were terrific, but these people have them licked."

Rodgers: "They're under more pressure in television. Our first orchestra rehearsal was a romp with never a voice raised. But we usually work pretty quietly — it's easier on the nerves."

Hammerstein: "I think the scenic designer felt a bit cramped for space — we need a 20-acre set."

Rodgers: "It's fantastic—we've got sets, within sets, inside other sets."

Rodgers carried the conversational ball for a spell, explaining: "We've tried to do just what it says — write a musical version of 'Cinderella,' with as many songs as possible. What isn't sung is accompanied by the orchestra. We didn't want gimmicks like making Cinderella a salesgirl who goes home to her wicked stepmother in the Bronx. This is the traditional 'Cinderella' with music.

"Julie Andrews came with the package when it was suggested to us. She was built-in, thank goodness."

Hammerstein chimed in with: "We looked underneath the fairy tale, tough, to give more depth of character. We've added some humor, but no change in the plot, no liberties with the story."

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars,

For Sunday, March 24, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Help spread sunshine. You will be amply repaid, though perhaps not in a way you would expect. This day sponsors religion, recreational activities, hobbies, family interests, civic affairs.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Maintain an even tempo this generous day. Take care of church obligations first, then join with loved ones and friends in diversions that please health without strain. Show your smile.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A peaceful sort of day. Conduct your program in similar vein. There is much to be gained spiritually and mentally through church services, proper associations. Revive old but lapsed friendships.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Time on your hands? Share it with the less fortunate and derive the satisfaction of a charitable and neighborly endeavor. Unless duties press, enjoy some wholesome recreation.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Your vibrations in tune with Cancer's now. Partake of day's best available festivities, sports events, entertainment, home interests. Live in the present; it is so full of the worthwhile.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — A review of the past week should prove encouraging. Continue to develop proven combinations. As is your wont, aid those who need a bit of help, an encouraging word, a new idea.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Swing from the routine for a refreshing change. Avoid gossip, misdirected effort. Be amenable to the worthwhile suggestions of friends, relatives. Spread your humor around.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) —Trustworthy friends, good causes, action based on reasoning and not impulse-direction are day's clues to happiness. All should start with the real guidance that comes from church services.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Vindicate those you should: assert yourself in defense of principles and you will be inwardly very content. A buoyed feeling comes from assisting others.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Give strength to others in whatever way you can, making your day one of giving rather than of receiving. And know the comforts of detachment from too much love of the world's goods.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 — (Aquarius) Be direct, sensible but not over-scrupulous. Neither go too far in the other direction. Don't become involved in arguments; keep your innate philosophical view of things for inner contentment.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) Analyze, sort out, be extra cautious and discriminating. But don't be overly strict nor unrelenting where others' foibles are concerned. We ALL have our faults.

YOU BORN TODAY are fiery, active, both mentally and physically, as a rule. You are naturally a brain worker and especially adept in assisting humanitarian causes. You may not always show the same sympathy to the individual you give to a group, but you do love your own dearly. Control tendencies to impetuosity, restless activity and quick temper. Your enthusiasm usually helps others to succeed more than they might otherwise. You are quick of perception, self-assertive, but also idealistic; make wonderful religious leaders. Don't strain your health. Birthdate of: Wm. Morris, poet, artist; Andrew W. Mellon, American financier, statesman.

'Millionaire' TV Show Gets Heavy Mail

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—So you'd like to win a million bucks!

A lot of people would, judging by the avalanche of mail pouring in on Marvin Miller, TV's "Michael Anthony" who so far has handed out 115 million-dollar checks on "The Millionaire" show.

"It's a standing gag everywhere I go," Miller declared "People always come up to me and say, 'You don't have a check for me in your pocket, do you?' "

Miller's mail bag is in much the same vein, but many of the letters are streaked with deadly seriousness—or tragedy.

"I get lots of letters from widows who have mortages on their homes," Miller said, "and the other day a nine-year-old Polish girl wrote that if her family wasn't selected to win one of the weekly million-dollar checks, they'd lose their home."

Marvin "Moneybags" Miller is constantly puzzled by the way the public seenms to be taken in by his gratuitous giving on "The Millionaire."

"I have never tried to fool anybody into thinking it was for real," he said, gazing at the ceiling. "I think people WANT to believe it's true.

"I'd kinda like to believe it, too. I wouldn't mind having a million dollars! Who would?

The public goes on hoping, despite the disillusioning tagline on the show which goes: "The characters and events depicted in this photoplay are fictional. Any similarity to actual persons, living or dead, is purely coincidental."

The dark-haired Miller, who is interested in menus, and old phonograph records as well as million-dollar checks, said one of the most interesting letters he has received lately should have gone to the lovelorn columns.

"Some man down South told me he'd been in love with a widow for several years," Miller related, "and that he had gone head over heels in debt to give her everything her heart desired. "'I just can't do anything more,' the man wrote, 'and now I am losing her. One of those million-dollar checks sure would come in handy'."

Another woman viewer in Brooklyn, N. Y., says she doesn't want a full million—just $50,000 to satisfy her creditors!

On a recent trip to London, Miller and his son were standing before Lord Nelson's tomb in St. Paul's cathedral when a 16-year-old girl rushed up to him and demanded his autograph.

"I couldn't help wondering," Miller admitted, "how Lord Nelson would feel."

Roz To Perform In Film Version

HOLLYWOOD — Rosalind Russell, who has won universal critical acclaim for her performance in the title role of the Broadway hit "Auntie Mame," has been signed to recreate her part in the motion picture version of the comedy.

Miss Russell will play in the Broadway hit until mid-January, 1958. Shooting of the film will commence soon thereafter on location in the East and in Europe.

The pupil of the eye admits only about half as much light at the age 50 as it did at 20 years.

'Juke Box' Writer

HOLLYWOOD — David Chandler will write the screenplay for "Juke Box Jamboree."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

JERRY REWARDED — Comedian Jerry Lewis, in New York City, receives from Mrs. Lou Gehrig an inscribed painting of the projected Institute for Muscle Disease. The gift was in recognition of his radio and TV appearances on behalf of the recent Muscular Dystrophy fund campaign, of which Mrs. Gehrig was national chairman. Institute will be built adjacent to the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center.
